

ASSESSMENT. AS EASY AS ABC (WELL, A B C D E F).

How do you know how well the class is following a lesson?

Traditionally, you'd only find out some time later - when written or follow-up work was analysed. By which time students may well be unable to remember exactly what their thought processes were - and when they started getting left behind.

Now, from as little as 3p per child per day, our unique Activote makes on-the-spot assessment very fast - and very easy.

It's a cuddly, wire-free, hand held voting device - designed specifically to work with our Activboard. We're the only company that produces both boards and response systems, though it's cleverly designed to be perfectly compatible with other boards, macs & pcs too.

Ask a question - either planned into your lesson, or spontaneously...

The students click their answer - from under their desk if they want. (Our product testers insisted on radio, not infra-red, technology, so students could keep their answers private from each other if they wished.)

And teachers gain instant insight - on anything from class registration or who had breakfast to instant understanding of how well a lesson is understood... or even predictive grades.

Votes can be recorded by individual student or by the whole class - all saveable to a flipchart or spread sheet. Letting teachers know who's clicked. Literally.
